Nottinghamshire Care Services Bake Off for Cancer Charity

Staff and residents at two care services in Nottinghamshire turned up the fundraising heat with a bake sale that raised much-needed funds for a cancer charity.

Located on Park Hall Road in Mansfield Woodhouse, Cherry Tree House and Pines are two residential care services for adults with autism and learning disabilities.

The Cygnet Social Care services recently hosted their annual Macmillan fundraiser with a bake sale, raising nearly £250.

The charity provides emotional, financial, practical and physical support to people living with cancer. Macmillan also offers vital cancer services as well as researches and campaigns to achieve better cancer care.

Sharon Wilson, Administrator at the two Cygnet Social Care services, highlighted the success of the fundraiser.

She said: "This is the fourth year we have hosted a Macmillan fundraiser and the generosity of our staff and resident never fails to amaze me. We wanted to fundraise for Macmillan in honour of all of our loved ones who are fighting cancer and to those that we have lost.

"Once again, we are so proud of our two services. The money we raised will be going straight to this amazing charity.

Throughout the day, staff at Cherry Tree House and Pines whisked up a variety of sweet treats to sell before taking part in a bingo and a raffle, alongside residents, which helped keep the fundraising momentum going.
