Woking Mental Health Hospitals Raise £500 for Cancer Charity

Two mental health hospitals in Woking baked a difference by raising vital funds for Breast Cancer Now.

Cygnet Hospital Woking and Cygnet Lodge Woking, two Cygnet Health Care services, recently hosted a bake sale which raised £500 for Breast Cancer Now.

Breast Cancer Now supports those affected by breast cancer by funding research to improve diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of the disease.

The charity also provides vital support services whilst raising awareness and advocating for better care for those with breast cancer across the UK.

The initiative was led by Kay Roberts, Mental Health Nurse, and Ciera Coffey, Medical Secretary, who encouraged the services to get involved.

Harrison Carnegie, Hospital Manager, said: "Thank you to everyone who contributed both baking and buying – together raising vital funds for a cause that's close to many of our hearts. Breast cancer remains the most common cancer in women in the UK, with a woman diagnosed every 19 minutes."

Individuals supported at the Cygnet Health Care services also played a key part in the fundraising and prepared a variety of sweet treats to sell.

Located on Redding Way, Cygnet Hospital Woking is a 62-bed hospital offering PICU, acute and low secure services for adults with mental health needs. Neighbouring service Cygnet Lodge Woking provides acute and high-support inpatient rehabilitation (level 2) care for men with complex mental health needs.
